

Romanian born Alina Mungiu-Pippidi has been recently ranked as one of the most influential academics in the field of political science.

She is the professor of Democracy Studies at Hertie School in Berlin and also chairs the European Research Centre for Anticorruption and State-Building (ERCAS). She is the author of A Quest for Good Governance. How Societies Build Control of Corruption (2015) and of Europe's Burden. Promoting Good Governance across Borders (2019), both with Cambridge University Press, of many journal articles (she published in Nature, the world's leading scientific publication) and policy reports. She also consulted for the World Bank, UNDP, the International Monetary Fund, the European Parliament, the Swedish Government, the EU Commission, the EU Council Dutch Presidency and others. Her research projects funded by both EU (DG Research) and American donors resulted in commons such as europam.eu, opentender.eu or integrity-index.org. In earlier transition years she has been a journalist in the print media and television. Her policy documentary A Tale of Two Villages has been screened by the BBC.